How does the evening work?

Step into a world of secrets, suspicion, and social strategy at Fear the Faithful – a thrilling interactive dining experience inspired by the hit phenomenon The Traitors. From the moment you take your seat, the game begins. Every guest is secretly assigned a role, but not everyone around the table can be trusted. Are you one of the Faithful, working together to uncover the deceivers in your midst? Or are you a Traitor, quietly manipulating events while avoiding detection?

Throughout the evening, our live hosts (The Claudias) will guide guests through a series of exciting challenges, dramatic votes, hidden missions, and shocking revelations, all seamlessly woven between courses. Alliances are formed over starters, suspicions emerge during the main course, and by dessert, friendships may be tested as tables race to expose the truth.

How Involved are we as Guests?

You'll get involved to the degree that you are comfortable with. There will be round table voting, and you may be surprised with an accusation or two by your fellow diners, but you'll always be seated, dining, and laughing your socks off!

Do I Get to be a Traitor?

Every table of diners will have a Traitor assigned, at random, in their midst. Will it be you? Maybe... maybe not... Everyone will think it's you at some point; being a Faithful is often just as tricky as trying to get away with deception.

Is there a Prize?

Certificates for the winning teams, but ultimately... you know you want to prove to yourself if you could really catch a Traitor!
